Who is Probe Corporation?

Currently, the Probe Corporation and its subsidiaries are specialised industrial equipment suppliers, providing aftermarket support for global and local brands. Our trademarked Probe ranges, including Probe batteries, ProbeAir compressors and Probenenergy alternative power solutions remain market leaders for all of SADC.

Who is probe integrated mining Technologies (IMT)?

Probe, established in 1963 by Francesco Rovelli, has developed into a diversified group powering the alternative energy, mining, automotive and industrial sectors in Southern Africa. Probe Industrial Technologies, Probenenergy and Probe Integrated Mining Technologies (IMT) are specialised divisions of the integrated group.

Does probe have a mining division?

It is with these inclusions that Probe could service customers in Gerberha, Kariega and Bloemfontein. In 2019, Probe's mining division had grown to the point of requiring its own division and formally separated from other divisions to concentrate Probe's efforts to service the mining industry.

Who are probe distributors and aftermarket support?

Probe has been appointed distributors and aftermarket support for many international brands, including Delco Remy, Prestolite/Leece Neville, C.E. Niehoff, Horton, Kysor and SM Power Battery Chargers. We have exclusive distribution agreements with Tudor Batteries (Brazil), North American Signal Company and Roadvision.

Does probe have a material handling company?

We have engaged with a material handling company to expand our range into electrical forklifts and EV technology, with the associated charging systems. Probe has a diversified range of batteries to support the material handling segment, encompassing lead, lithium and advanced traction battery solutions.
