What material are the battery tabs made of?

Our battery tab portfolio is built to meet the modern requirements for lithium-ion battery and energy storage manufacturing. Our tabs are available with or without polypropylene film, and black or yellow DNP. There are two foil-to-tab welds in each li-ion cell, and hundreds of cells in a standard lithium-ion battery pack.

What are energy storage technologies?

Energy storage technologies store energy either as electricity or heat/cold, so it can be used at a later time. With the growth in electric vehicle sales, battery storage costs have fallen rapidly due to economies of scale and technology improvements.

What is a Battery TAB?

A Battery TAB is a component used in lithium-ion cell manufacturing. It connects the current collector plates (foils) inside the cell to a tab, which gathers all the current collector plates together.

What is the difference between energy stored and charging and discharging power?

The energy stored, and the charging and discharging power are non-negative quantities. Furthermore, the energy stored is constrained by the installed storage energy capacity,  $E_{\max}$ , and the charging and discharging power is limited by the maximum charging and discharging power of the unit,  $E_{\max} / \tau$ , also referred to as the storage power capacity.
