From this DC source an inverter can convert the DC to AC to power and back up AC loads. This solution works well and is cost effective when there are more DC loads than AC loads to back up. A second possible solution is to start with the same rectifier and battery backup for DC, but implement a traditional UPS for backing up the AC portion.

Next up was building a 28-kilowatt solar system complemented by a 20-kilowatt wind turbine system, which harvests energy all day and all night. These feed a large battery bank, and have a generator backup system, but the renewable systems harvest so much energy that we need to keep the air conditioning on to use all of the power we create.
